Program Title: _____

Speaker: _____

Please indicate below whether or not you grant PLA the right to record and offer for sale audiocassettes including your speech or comments to be given at the program. PLA will have the right of first refusal for publication for 30 days following the presentation. If a representative of PLA does not contact you by the end of the 30-day period, the presentation papers may be released to other publishers. Granting this release in no way relinquishes your ownership of this material nor waives your rights to continue to present or publish this same speech and/or use portions thereof as you so choose. Granting this release does not guarantee or assure that this program will be published by ALA or PLA.

- Yes, I do give permission to tape       No, I do not give permission to tape

If you have given us permission to tape, it will be important for ALA to confirm that it has the full right to distribute the tape. For this reason, your signature below will constitute a warranty that all of your material which will be included on the tape is your own original work; that it does not violate any copyright or other proprietary rights of others; that it is factually accurate and contains no libelous matter; and that you assign ALA the copyright therein for purposes of making and distributing the tape. This copyright assignment will specifically not prevent you from presenting or publishing the same speech or using portions thereof as you choose.
